

Maison Sollier

The client wanted to build a stone house. The modernity of the stone is sought in the stacking of the construction elements, with load-bearing stone topped by a lintel forming the wall ties. Inside, the roof structure is supported at the ridge on metal supports to ensure continuity of light. The simple layout provides an entrance protected from views from the road, and a bathroom opening onto a patio terrace with views of the remarkable surrounding countryside.

LOCATION Salasc, 34800 [Hérault]

CLIENT Private

SURFACE 127m²

PROGRAM Single-family house

COÛT 100 000 € excl. taxes

PHASE Delivered in 2020

MISSION Stages 0 to 6, from strategic definition to handover and close out